

FAMILIA MASTRANTONIO

This is a case study of when new world meets old world, where the expressiveness and vibrant personality of the wines meet an elegant and well balance profile, with firm structure and great aging potential.

| MALBEC

Region

Los Chacayes (elevation 1,300m), Valle de Uco, Mendoza, Argentina.

Varietal Composition

Malbec 80%, Petit Verdot 20% (handpicked from an organic vineyard).

Vinification

A blend of Malbec and Petit Verdot grapes, co-fermented in barrels (40% new) made of French oak. Produced with grapes from selected parcels, which are hand-harvested. Following fermentation, the wine matures in barrels for at least one year.

Aging

12 months of aging in French oak barrels.

Tasting Notes

Appearance: Intense and deep in appearance, with bright violet-red hues.

Aromas: Intense and deep, featuring herbaceous and fruity characteristics, with subtle smoky undertones.

Palate: Its entry is balanced and robust, reflecting the terroir with clear expressions of black fruits, spices, and wild herbs, all typical of Los Chacayes. Full-bodied with almost firm textures, ensuring excellent aging potential.

Pairing: Rack of lamb with fine herbs.
